

2016 Highlights

AFLW - Eight women's teams in 2017

The AFL has settled on an eight-team competition for the national women's league's inaugural season next year.

Adelaide, Brisbane Lions, Carlton, Collingwood, Fremantle, Greater Western Sydney, Melbourne and the Western Bulldogs were the successful bidders, with 13 AFL clubs submitting for licences.

Geelong, North Melbourne, Richmond, St Kilda and West Coast will have provisional licences and could join the league as early as 2018.

Interest in the women's league has skyrocketed – after an initial plan to have six teams, there was speculation the first season might have as many as 10.

"Our game is on the cusp of changing forever and changing for the better," AFL chairman Mike Fitzpatrick said at Wednesday's MCG announcement.

"The concept of a national competition has been put together in short space of time, but this day has been a long time coming.

"The number of women and girls playing club football has doubled over the past five years."

Crows welcome first women's draft class

One of the most promising young players in the country, South Australian midfielder Ebony Marinoff has become the first player selected by the Crows in the inaugural NAB AFL Women's Draft.

Marinoff, who was drafted with pick No.7 overall, was one of 18 players recruited by Adelaide at the historic meet in Melbourne on Wednesday.

The 18-year-old is already an All Australian and triple premiership player with SAWFL club Morphettville Park. She kicked the winning goal in SA's clash with NSW/ACT at Adelaide Oval earlier this year.

Marinoff was presented with a Crows jumper on stage at the draft and said it was a special moment.

"It's a dream come true to be picked up," she said.

"To be the (Club's) first pick, to go to Melbourne for the draft and be a pioneer for the Adelaide Football Club is pretty exciting.

"I can't wait to get started."

Marinoff was among eight South Aussies selected by Adelaide in Wednesday's draft. The Crows team, which is in partnership with AFL Northern Territory, also welcomed another six Territorians.

Marquee players Chelsea Randall and Kellie Gibson (WA), experienced pair Angela Foley (NT) and Courtney Cramey (SA) and rookies Phillips and Jasmine Anderson (NT) were signed prior to Wednesday's draft.
